Methodology of the G7 University

The methodology, based on a few simple rules, aims at supporting an open exchange of views, giving all the participants the opportunity to contribute with their experiences to the success of the initiative.

Parallel Sessions – The Magnificent Meetings

The methodology implies:

- A limited and qualified number of participants for each meeting.
- Absolute punctuality, vital to allow all participants to gather together.
- Each speech should be concise and focused on the content proposed, and no longer than 5 minutes. In order to take the floor, participants have to put the placeholder in a vertical position. Speeches will follow the booking order. Speeches up to 8 minutes have to be authorized by the chairman.
- Brief questions from the audience and participants' answers (no longer than 3 minutes each) are allowed in the last 20 minutes. Questions can be booked by delivering the specific badge to the staff and will follow the booking order.
- Preparatory documents will be sent to all participants in advance.
- Presence at the table is required throughout the working session.

The role of the chairmen is vital for the success of the working sessions. In particular, their assignments are:

- To introduce the working session and to summarize the content of the position paper.
- To ensure the respect of the timetable.
- To take note of the requests for the floor and ensure time-keeping.
- To promote a relaxed and informal atmosphere, essential for an open and sincere debate, in order to encourage the comparison between different experiences.
- To summarize the key points that surfaced in the debate at the end of the working session (3/5 minutes).

The role of the rapporteurs is equally important for the success of the working sessions. In particular, their assignments are:

- To help the chairman manage the two parallel sessions.
- To take note of each and every participant speech content.
- To draw up, along with all the chairmen, a conclusive report of the G7 University by merging the content that surfaced in the debate.

Plenary Session – Education for All

The methodology implies:

- Speeches no longer than 5 minutes. In order to take the floor, each participant has to put the placeholder in a vertical position. Speeches will follow the booking order.
- Brief questions from the audience and participants' answers (no longer than 3 minutes each) are allowed in the last 20 minutes. Questions can be booked by delivering the specific badge to the staff and will follow the booking order.

Role of the Plenary Session's chairman

- To introduce the general content of the G7 University Manifesto – Education for All draft.
- To take note of the requests for the floor and ensure time-keeping.
- To conclude the working session.

Role of the 4 Round Tables' chairmen

- To introduce the content of the G7 University Manifesto – Education for All draft, relevant to the table.
- To help the chairman manage the plenary session.
- To take note of each and every participant speech content.

Chairman & Rapporteur Meetings

At the end of the Parallel Sessions, held on Thursday, 29th June, from 6.30 pm to 8.00 pm in Room T5, the 4 chairmen and the 8 rapporteurs of the 4 Round Tables will draw up a report that will take into consideration all proposals and ideas put forward during the working sessions. This draft of the G7 University Manifesto – Education for All will be the starting point for the plenary session of Friday morning.

At the end of the Plenary Session, held on Friday, 30th June, from 11.00 am to 11.30 am in Room T5, the chairman of the Plenary Session and the 4 chairmen of the Round Tables will draw up a concise preliminary version of the G7 University Manifesto – Education for All that will be presented by the Italian Minister from 11.30 am to 12.00 am.

G7 University Manifesto – Education for All

The Manifesto will be created specifically for Universities and the Ministers of Education from around the world. Its purpose is to draw attention to what universities should and could do to support cultural, social and economic development in their own countries, within the general framework of sustainability and global citizenship.
